

NUX

NUX is a variegated wood of Canaletto ABC walnut with many shades and tones, open-pore, naturalized, oiled based on beeswax. The most classic, the noblest but also the most daring.

CARBO

A strong, dark character for this selected oak AB, made dark by the smoked process that has its origin in its tannins. To emphasize the structure, it is brushed and finished with a textured effect and applied a natural beeswax oil to give it brightness and contrast.

HARENA

This elegant oak is selected from European oaks (AB aspect class) , always brushed and then textured. It is oxidated and then finished with light grey oil based on beeswax to give it multiple light and dark effects that create a modern and attractive style.

FERRUM

AB selected oak with a strong personality. It is brushed and textured to give it even more character, and is then “oxidated” and finished with grey oil based on beeswax...giving a more rock finish to the SKEMA Floor product.

NATURAL

From the Latin quercus petraea, this selected AB oak is in practice a first choice with small knots in its structure. First brushed, then textured and finally stained and oiled (with natural beeswax oil) to give it a naturally oxidated effect.

NEUTRA

This selected AB oak comes from the timber with minimal traces of woodiness (knots), which are the basis of the beauty of a wooden floor. It receives a light brushing that brings out its characteristics and grain. Wefted to emphasize and mark the grain, then toned and finished with natural wax-based oil containing anti-yellowing oil to emphasize its original natural beauty.
